CUSTOMIZED ACCESS PANELS

You might not know that about 30% of our business is building custom access panels, but every day, we are taking our customer's ideas and turning them into squares & rectangles of steel!

In our California plant, we have the engineering and fabrication equipment to handle most custom requests. Whether you need an unusual size to meet an architect's specifications, fit an odd space, or a combination of special materials and locks, call us for a quote.

Need a special finish such as galvanized, stainless steel or a color match? Call customer service.

The Minnesota facility handles production of the SP and HSP Security access panels. Here, we can accommodate requests for custom lock cutouts, special deadbolts, slam and security locks and customer-supplied lock installation.
